In the Specification, page 6, please replace the paragraph beginning with "In one form of the invention, a switch . . ." and ending with ". . . continued beeping to annoy the owner and others." with the following paragraph:

In one form of the invention, a switch 110 in Figure 2 is present which allows the owner to shut off the beeping, when a card is detected to be missing. This allows the owner to be informed of the missing card, but then to prevent continued beeping to annoy the owner and others.
